Frank Ellis Charged With McElreath Murder

ARREST FOLLOWS FINDING OF BODY AT OLD SAWMILL

Accused Man to Offer Alibi as Defense in Slaying of County Engineer Saturday Night

TWO COUNTIES JOIN IN PROBE OF DEATH

Coroner's Inquest Will Be Resumed at Zuber's Store Wednesday Morning—New Clues Found.

Frank Ellis, young rug salesman, was arrested shortly before 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon on a warrant charging him with the murder of Homer McElreath, engineer at Bellwood convict camp, whose mutilated body was discovered at an abandoned sawmill on the Chattahoochee river early Tuesday morning. McElreath had been missing since Saturday night.

Ellis was arrested at his place of employment by City Policeman J. C. Williamson. The warrant was sworn out in Fairburn and brought to Atlanta by Deputy Sheriff O. W. Gullett. After registering the prisoner at police headquarters, the deputy sheriff took him to the Campbell county jail.

According to the deputy sheriff, Ellis is thought to be the last person seen with McElreath prior to his disappearance Saturday night.

The nature of the evidence on which the accusation against Ellis is based was not disclosed last night by those investigating the affair, but it is expected to be brought out Wednesday before Coroner Henderson, of Campbell county.

In a brief statement to a Constitution reporter at police station, Ellis denied the charge and declared that to his knowledge he had never seen the murdered man.

Will Offer Alibi. Firm belief that Ellis will be able to prove an alibi was expressed last night by fellow boarders of the accused man at 93 Capitol square. Mrs. R. F. Kennington, proprietor of the boarding house, said that Ellis has been at the house since Saturday night and has shown no signs of nervousness. Only at lunch Tuesday, she said, he was cheerful and brought many laughs among the boarders during the meal.

According to Mrs. Kennington, Ellis has been going to see a young woman in Fairburn for several months and she expressed the belief that he will be able to prove by the young woman his whereabouts until late Saturday evening, when her brother brought him back to Atlanta.

Several of those residing at the Kennington home went to Fairburn to see Ellis Tuesday night, all pleading him their aid in clearing himself of the charge of connection with McElreath's murder.

Sheriff G. E. Jenkins and his deputies and several members of the Fulton county police force are conducting the investigation. Except to state that it is his opinion that robbery was the motive for the act, Sheriff Jenkins made no comment on the case.

A coroner's inquest, which was begun Tuesday morning, will be resumed at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at Zuber's store, near the point where the body was found.

Lieutenant J. T. Carroll and Policemen Baker, Atkinson and Donegan were working on clues late Tuesday night. It is on information gathered by the investigators during Tuesday that the warrant was obtained for Ellis.

Pockets Were Rifled. Strength was given to a robbery theory by the fact that the pockets of the dead man's clothes, with the exception of the watch pocket, were found wrong side out. In his watch pocket were found his watch and a $5 gold piece, and three $1 bills, which could have been overlooked in a rapid search of the many pockets.

The body of McElreath was found hidden in a pile of sawdust just a few yards from the old river road in Campbell county, seven miles from Ben Hill. The man had been missing since Saturday night.

McElreath was 28 years old, and was employed as an engineer at the Bellwood convict camp. On week-ends he drove his machine in jitney service between Ben Hill and a place known as the Andrew Stewart farm, eight miles away.

Find Abandoned Car. It is said that Saturday night he drove two young ladies to a watermelon cutting at the Stewart farm and left to bring other persons to the farm. When he failed to return a searching party was formed; discovery of his abandoned machine on

Britain Blames U. S. as She Duns Allied Debtors

Would Cancel War Debts If U. S. Would Do Likewise.

London, August 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—The British foreign office tonight issued the text of an important note on the question of inter-allied debts. Though not formally addressed to the Washington government, having been ostensibly meant only for some of the allied and associated powers, it evidently is intended primarily for consumption in the United States.

The note places on formal record, on the eve of the coming conference between Premier Poincare and Prime Minister Lloyd George, with representatives of Italy and Belgium in London, the British government's views on the question of inter-allied indebtedness and reparations.

Briefly the policy advocated is that it would be unjust to the British taxpayer to ask him to forgive allied war debts while at the same time he was required to shoulder the indebtedness to America.

The note which was addressed by the Earl of Balfour, acting foreign secretary, to France, Italy, Yugoslavia, Portugal and Greece, constitutes a strong plea for international settlement of debts and reparations on the basis of a general cancellation of inter-allied indebtedness and a generous reduction in German reparations and at the same time the government's reply to those persons of the public and the newspapers which have frankly advised cancellation of the French, Italian and other allied debts to England, irrespective of whether the United States was willing to cancel the British debts.

ONLY CONGRESS CAN CANCEL DEBT

Washington, August 1.—President Harding's hands are tied by congress against the signing of any agreement with the United States either to cancel the allied debts to this nation or to refund them except as definitely stipulated by law. This law, creating the debt funding commission, provides that every dollar owed us by foreign countries must be paid.

Were it the disposition of the administration to enter into negotiations looking toward mutual remission of war debts among the allied and associated powers, the president would have to ask congress for material modification of the present law. And to ask for such legislation, in contemplation of wiping the international books clean of war loans, particularly those of Great Britain, would be politically suicidal. If Great Britain paid, there would be a strong feeling of leniency toward the other debtors or nations.

This, in a word, is the thought of officials here following receipt of dispatches from London reporting that Great Britain has proposed to France, Italy and Belgium her willingness to cancel her reparations claims against Germany and her loans to the allies provided there could be a mutual agreement to this end by all the allies, to which the United States would subscribe.

Gutzon Borglum Here to Start Great Memorial

To Chisel Monument to Confederacy on Face of Stone Mountain.

Gutzon Borglum, widely-known sculptor, who was commissioned several years ago to chisel the principal side of Stone Mountain, 18 miles from Atlanta, and whose plans were halted by the world war, arrived in Atlanta this week to begin his task.

Mr. Borglum has taken up his residence at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mason, at Stone Mountain, and will begin actual work this week on his unusual undertaking. Just when the monument to the confederacy will be completed, he would not commit himself.

It is understood that work on the project will be exploited in order that the monument will have taken shape by this time next year when thousands of visitors from all parts of the country who will gather here for the Elks and Kimsan's convention may see it.

POLICEMAN KILLS MAN IN AUGUSTA QUARREL

Augusta, Ga., August 1.—(Special.) T. A. Fell, member of the local police force, shot and killed W. P. Robertson here this afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock. The killing occurred on the 1100 block of Broad in Schramm's pawnshop.

SENATE COMMITTEE KILLS LABEL BILL; CHARTER APPROVED

Favorable Report Is Made on Bill to Make Poll Tax Only Tax Requirement for Voting.

SAVANNAH TERMINAL BILL IS INTRODUCED

Brunswick Invites Assembly to Inspect Glynn Ports—Municipal League Bill Report in Disagreement.

At the close of a hearing at the capitol Tuesday afternoon in which drugists and food manufacturers and dealers bitterly scored the labeling bill introduced by Senator Pat Haralson, the senate temperance committee voted to table the measure.

The bill required packages, bottles and other containers of foods and drinks of all kinds to bear a label stating the component parts of the contents.

Several other committees met and acted on important measures, one of which was the bill by Senator Thorpe which provides that the payment of poll taxes alone will qualify any citizen to vote in all elections. The bill is a constitutional amendment, and was reported favorably by general judiciary committee No. 2.

Charter Bill Passed.

In the senate Tuesday morning the outstanding features of the session were passage of the Atlanta charter bill, abolishing the police, water, health and park boards, and otherwise amending the city charter; the introduction of a bill signed by 31 senators providing for the establishment of a state-owned and operated port terminal at Savannah, and a victory won by advocacy of the water-power bill supported by the Municipal League of Georgia, when the adverse report of the committee on constitutionality was rejected.

HOWARD TO SELL 6 STATES' COTTON

Atlantan Asked to Handle Sales for Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas Co-operative Exchanges.

Chesley B. Howard, of Atlanta, one of the ablest cotton merchants in the entire country, who early last month was elected salesmanager for the co-operative cottongrowers' associations of Georgia, Alabama and North Carolina, will, in all probability, assume charge of the sales of three additional states.

This was indicated Tuesday when Associated Press dispatches. The Constitution from Little Rock, Ark., stated that Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas members of the board of trustees of the American Cotton Growers' Exchange, meeting there Tuesday, endorsed Mr. Howard for the position of general salesmanager of the exchange.

As salesmanager of co-operative cottongrowers, of Georgia, Alabama and North Carolina, Mr. Howard represented approximately 50,000 producers, who in 1920, raised in excess of 800,000 bales.

In the event that he takes charge of sales for the three western states, he is expected that he will maintain control of around two million bales this year.

Mr. Howard could not be reached Tuesday night, due to the fact that he was in Little Rock in attendance at the meeting. It was stated here that he went in order to bring about close affiliation between the American Cotton Growers' Exchange and the co-operative associations of the southern states.

This move proves to be successful. Mr. Howard, as head of the sales department, will handle by far the greatest number of bales of the staple controlled by any organization of any kind. Several other states, including South Carolina, have state associations that are not actively affiliated with either the Georgia, Alabama and North Carolina organization or the cottongrowers' exchange. It is expected that later on efforts will be made to cement all state cotton organizations into one body.

Mr. Howard is expected to return to Atlanta tonight.

GLENN E. PLUMB, RAILROAD LABOR COUNSEL, IS DEAD

Washington, August 1.—Glenn E. Plumb, counsel for the sixteen larger railroad organizations and author of the celebrated "Plumb Plan" of railroad operation and ownership, died tonight. Death was due to an affection of the heart from which he had suffered for several months.

Administration Eager to Talk With Home-Visiting Congressmen on Voters' Comment.

REPUBLICANS AFRAID OF VERDICT OF POLLS

Growing Opposition to Tariff, Bonus and Ship Subsidy Measures Worrying G. O. P. Leaders.

Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, August 1.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—Administration officials in Washington are looking forward with keen interest to the re-convention of the lower house on August 15. Members of congress who have been visiting their home states during the midsummer recess are expected to have some valuable first hand information from local constituencies on a number of important questions.

Having spent over a month "building up fences" and feeling out the general situation their return will afford political managers an opportunity to straighten out the house for the big political reception to be pulled off in November. What individual members have to say will influence materially the course to be taken in the remaining legislative program.

There are assurances already of a big house cleaning on the republican side. Their leaders are clearly up in the air over at least three questions—the bonus, tariff and ship subsidy—not to mention the other problems which have been the source of current criticism throughout the present administration and advice from congressmen who have been on the ground and know how the land lies is awaited with anxiety.

Country In Arms. Of late there has been conspicuous evidence of the public taking a keen interest in pending legislation. And much to the embarrassment of the

FRANCES FREEMAN KILLED BY AUTO

Woman Driving Car Rushes Little Girl to Hospital—Witnesses Say She Is Blameless.

Frances Ruth Freeman, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. A. Freeman, of 11 Willet street, was fatally injured about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening when she was struck and run over by an automobile driven by Mrs. M. H. Jones, of 116 Iverson street.

Witnesses told Call Officers Crankshaw and Andrews, who investigated the accident, that the child stepped from the sidewalk into the path of the automobile, and that the accident was entirely unavoidable.

The little girl died at Grady hospital shortly after being taken there by Mrs. Jones.

Mrs. Jones had been with her daughter to Grant park and was returning home in her machine. While driving along Powell street, the little Freeman girl, who was standing on the corner of Powell and Willet streets with her mother, dashed directly in front of the car. The front wheel knocked the child down and passed over her head.

Mrs. Freeman told the police that the driver of the machine was not to blame. Charges of reckless driving against Mrs. Jones will be heard in police court on August 9.

LONG LEADS REED ON EARLY RETURNS IN MISSOURI RACE

Later Figures, However, Show Reed Cutting Down Opponent's Lead, Gained in Country Precincts.

CONGRESSWOMAN LEADS IN OKLAHOMA CONTEST

Close Races Are Indicated in Kansas, While Swanson Is Apparent Winner in Virginia.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Chicago, August 1.—With returns late tonight too meager to determine all the successful candidates in state-wide primaries held today in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, West Virginia and Virginia, early figures compiled in the race between Senator James A. Reed and Breckinridge Long, former third assistant secretary of state, for the democratic nomination in Missouri, put Long in the lead. However, as later figures began to come in, Reed began to cut down his opponent's lead. Long had the advantage in the country districts, with Reed far ahead in Kansas City.

In the six-state contest for the republican nomination for senator in Missouri, R. B. Brewster, of Kansas City, endorsed by the regular republican organization, in the early returns had as many votes as his next three opponents combined.

Senator Howard Sutherland in the West Virginia voting, maintained the lead for the republican nomination for senator, with H. C. Wheeling running second.

Running on a platform adopted by the farmer-labor reconstruction league, Mayor J. C. Walton, of Oklahoma City, had jumped into the lead over R. H. Wilson, said to have Ku Klux Klan support in the democratic nomination for governor in Oklahoma.

Miss Alice Robertson, who is seeking renomination to congress in this state, had a big lead over her opponent in the early returns, while Manuel Herrick, also seeking renomination to congress on the republican ticket was running third on the meager returns.

Close races were indicated in the early figures from the Kansas primaries.

ATLANTA MAY GET NEW U. S. BUILDING

Senator Harris Asks Survey of Federal Activities Here, With View of Additional Space.

Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, August 1.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—A survey of the activities of the federal government in Atlanta with a view toward making a report on the office space necessary for a new federal building was requested of the supervising architect of the treasury department by Senator William J. Harris today, who said that he would propose the legislation for further buildings when the report was ready.

Under the rules of congress in making appropriations now all estimates for appropriations must be submitted by the various departments, approved by the budget bureau and submitted by the president.

Senator Harris advised the postmaster general and the secretary of war of his request of the treasury department, which has charge of the construction and supervision of all federal buildings. The Georgia senator said he visited the present building when in Atlanta last week, and that he had been advised several government activities could not be housed in the present building.

It became known today that the war department at one time thought it might be necessary to consider the removal of the fourth corps area army headquarters from Atlanta because of lack of office space. The headquarters have been at Fort McPherson, near Atlanta, Senator Harris said.

Rail Executives Reject Seniority Settlement Proposed By Harding

$50,000 IS VOTED FOR STATE TROOPS ON SPECIAL DUTY

House Passes Emergency Appropriation to Facilitate Use of Militia in Strikes or Riots.

TAX EQUALIZATION REPEAL UP TODAY

Leaders Expect Repeal Bill to Pass—$75,000 Is Asked to Finance Cattle-Dipping in State.

The house of representatives Tuesday afternoon voted an emergency appropriation of $50,000 to the state military department to be used only in cases where the governor is forced to call out state troops to quell riot or for strike duty. The bill was amended so as to read that $50,000 or such a part of that sum as might be necessary, would be available under its terms.

Passage of this bill in the afternoon was one of the important achievements of the house at its Tuesday session.

During the morning the entire time was given over to debate over the bill providing for the repeal of the state tax equalization law and the noon adjournment came before a vote was taken on that measure. It is expected that the house will vote on the bill Wednesday and the question now uppermost in the minds of some of the leaders favoring repeal is whether there is time left in which to pass the repeal measure in the house and senate and place it on the governor's desk before August 16, the final day of the legislature's session.

Expect It to Pass. It is conceded by nearly all leaders on both sides that the bill repealing the tax equalization law will be passed and placed on the governor's desk. The governor has announced that he would veto the measure unless a substitute tax bill is passed to take its place. It is now indicated that the fate of the tax repeal law will be in the hands of the governor during the last few days of the session and that he will have an opportunity of vetoing the bill before the legislature leaves or can wait until after the final days of the session to veto it.

The debate over the bill in the house Tuesday was warm and extended. The speakers were allowed 20 minutes each to discuss the bill. Those speaking for the measure were Representatives Watkins, of Butts; Rutherford, of Monroe; Greene, of

OBENCHAIN JURY FAILS ONCE AGAIN

Second Trial of Woman Ends in Failure as Jury Is Discharged Without Verdict.

Los Angeles, Cal., August 1.—The jury in the second trial of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy reported late today to Judge John W. Shenk it was unable to agree upon a verdict and was discharged.

The jury on its final ballot showed a majority for acquittal. One juror later said that the vote was 8 to 4, while another gave it as 9 to 3.

Two members protested against being discharged when Judge Shenk called them into court. Foreman M. O. Paddock said there was "not a chance for agreement." James M. Rhodes, who led the defense forces in the jury room, and another juror rose to protest, but the judge refused to hear them. Seven women and five men comprised the jury, which had been out 97 hours.

Text of Reply Sent President, in Which Rail Heads Refuse to Accept Peace Terms.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. New York, August 1.—The unanimous refusal of the American Association of Railway Executives to accept President Harding's plan for settlement of the rail shop crafts' strike was contained in the following message telegraphed to the white house tonight:

"Resolved (1). That we accept the first recommendations of the president reading as follows:

"First, railway managers and workmen are to agree to recognize the validity of all decisions of the railroad labor board and faithfully carry out such decisions as contemplated by the law, with the understanding that this is not intended to preclude any party to a controversy from proceeding by legal action to question the validity of any order of the board on the ground that jurisdiction and authority to make the order was not conferred by the statutes creating the board and defining its authority."

"(2). That we accept the second proposal of the president reading as follows:

To Withdraw Lawsuits.

"Second, the carriers will withdraw all lawsuits growing out of the strike and railroad labor board decisions which have been involved in the strike and which may be taken, in the exercise of recognized rights by either party, to the railroad labor board for rehearing, with the understanding that the strike is first called off, and the representatives of the strikers pledge themselves and the strikers against violence in any form against the men now at work and the property of the carriers, since otherwise it would be impossible to consider the dismissal of injunctions and other legal measures necessary to protect such persons and property from the violence and intimidation of the character resorted to in many localities since the strike was called."

"(3). That it is impossible to agree to the first sentence of the third proposal of the president, the whole of which reads as follows:

"Third, all employees on strike to be returned to work and to their former positions with seniority and other rights unimpaired. The representatives of the carriers and the representatives of the organizations especially agree that there will be no discussion of the seniority question."

MINE STRIKE END IS BELIEVED NEAR

Action of Lewis, Union Leader, in Calling Conference, Holds Hope of Settlement.

BY ELLIS SEARLES. Editor United Mine Workers Journal.

Washington, August 1.—The American people may breathe a long sigh of relief for John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, has issued a call for a joint conference of miners and operators at Cleveland next Monday to settle the coal miners' strike.

By this move, peace in the coal industry is brought to the very threshold of accomplishment. Resumption of mining is now just around the corner. Coal operators, coal miners and the coal consuming public will be glad when it is all over.

The Cleveland conference will be composed of the three international officials of the United Mine Workers of America; eight representatives of the miners from each of the four states in the central competitive field, comprising western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, and such representatives of the operators as the operators themselves may select.

It will be a negotiating conference, with full power and authority to enter into an agreement, subject only to the approval of the general policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America.

The policy committee will be in session at Cleveland at the same time, ready to act upon the agreement reached in the conference. Once the agreement is signed the digging of coal will be resumed immediately.

RAIL HEADS' REPLY TO HARDING OFFER IS FIRM REFUSAL

What Next Move of Administration in Strike Crisis Will Be Is Not Divulged.

MEN ARE EXPECTED TO ACCEPT PROPOSAL

Executives Believe That If Left to Own Devices They Can Ignore Striking Shopmen.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, August 1.—Railway executives of the nation today firmly but courteously rejected the program advanced by the Harding administration for settlement of the rail strike.

Willing to accept conditionally two suggestions put forward by the white house—that both sides abide by wage decisions of the railroad labor board and that law suits springing out of the strike be withdrawn—the heads of 148 roads declared emphatically that it was impossible to reinstate strikers with unimpaired seniority rights, the third provision in the president's plan.

After being told by Robert S. Lovett, of the Union Pacific, that there was no moral or practical reason for budging from their position, the executives disabused, caught the first train for their respective headquarters and indicated that they were going ahead and would operate their roads with the forces they had assembled since the shopmen walked out on July 1.

Hoover Speaks.

The decision not to yield on the question of seniority was made known to the white house by telegraph after the rail heads had listened to a 20-minute address by Secretary of Commerce Hoover, who, as direct representative of the president, told them in effect that the administration held the seniority question of minor importance in comparison of that upholding the railroad labor board.

The only question which arose in the short period during which the president's proposal was under active discussion was how emphatically the reply of rejection should be worded.

In the balloting each road was given one vote for each 1,000 miles of track operated.

The reply, drafted during the noon recess by the standing committee, was adopted by a vote of 205 to 2.

Unanimous Disapproval. This, however, represented unanimous disapproval of the president's plan, the two dissenting votes being cast by L. F. Lore, chairman of the eastern conference, representing the Delaware and Hudson and the Kansas City Southern, with the explanation that he wished the seniority proposal turned down even more decisively.

Only two roads operating in the United States were not reported represented. They were the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, and the Gulf and Ship Island, both of which were declared to have been unaffected by the strike.

President A. H. Smith, of the New York Central, apparently crystallized the sentiment of the chiefs when, during their discussion, he threw on the conference table 400 telegrams from foremen and supervisors of the road, announcing they would have to resign if the seniority ranking of the striking was returned.

Want to Be Let Alone. Immediately others leaped to their feet to testify to a similar condition.

among officials of their roads. Resignations would be wholesale, from subordinates to general managers, if their personal pledges to protect present employees could not be made good, they declared.

"What we want the government to do is to let us alone; to let us settle this strike in our own way," declared Mr. Smith.

"We have organized new shop forces and are getting the roads back to normal. Unless the government ceases its interference, we will have a far worse strike on our hands. You must stand by those who stand by you to maintain discipline. If strike are re-stated with rights, it will be impossible to maintain discipline.

"Acceptance of President Harding's proposal would result in complete demoralization of America's transportation system and the system of honorable co-operation between employer and employee upon which it was found."

NEXT ADMINISTRATION MOVE NOT INDICATED

Washington, August 1.—President Harding had the rail strike problem back on his hands tonight as a result of the refusal of the railway executives, at their meeting in New York, to accept the administration settlement plan so far as the seniority issue is concerned. There was no indication at the white house as to what move, if any, the government planned to make.

It was considered probable that Mr. Harding would study the text of the executives' reply and that expected from the labor leaders' meeting, in Chicago, before reaching a decision. The tone of the replies and the circumstances under which they were made, it was indicated, undoubtedly would guide Mr. Harding to some extent and there was another intimation that publicity could not always be helpful in the difficult and delicate negotiations into which the administration has been drawn by the industrial situation.

STRIKERS SURE TO ACCEPT PLAN

Chicago, August 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Acceptance of President Harding's railroad peace plan by the striking shopmen was practically assured tonight when the strikers' policy committee of ninety adjourned until tomorrow when definite action is expected to be taken.

This was learned from union leaders after a four-hour session today which the president's suggestions were discussed and explained.

Following the meeting, no union leader would comment on the situation, left as it was, in mid-air, but with a very definite trend toward acceptance. Discussions of the afternoon reviewed practically the whole strike situation.

Rejection of the seniority proposal by the railroad executives in New York and their qualified acceptance of the president's other two points, were received without comment by the strikers. The opinion was expressed, however, that today's communication by the executives did not constitute their final word. The answer of the executives was not even brought up for consideration in the meeting.

"The door is not shut behind them," one union chief said. "They need time to work this thing out, they are just jockeying for a good position, but they're going to die hard."

Members of the executive council explained their interpretation of the president's program which was said to be, in fact, the employees' own proposition to President Harding last week.

One union head, who refused to be quoted, said it was "our own proposition, only stronger."

UPSHAW FAVORS GIVING STRIKERS SENIORITY RIGHTS

Expressing belief in the fairness of seniority rights for striking shopmen, Congressman W. D. Upshaw sent a telegram of commendation Tuesday to President Harding, thanking the president for his work to effect "a just peace in the settlement of the present dispute."

Text of the telegram follows: "President Warren G. Harding: Allow me to thank you in behalf of three thousand shopmen who are my constituents for your earnest efforts to secure a just peace in the settlement of the present dispute. Urging conservatism upon these shopmen from the beginning, I am still forced to believe that the surrender of seniority rights by these toiling men who have invested almost the whole of their lives in the sweat, labor and devotion of railroad building, would be like robbing a locomotive of its cylinders and still expecting it to run. God give you and the rail chiefs wisdom to bring about a speedy and just solution.

"WILLIAM D. UPSHAW."

AD MEN ARE BLOND, CLENDENING LEARNS

"That the typical advertising man is a blond is a psychological theory that worked out to perfection in the color scheme at the Milwaukee convention of Ad Clubs of the World," said Paul Clendening at the Character Analysis club in the Candler building last night, when he discussed the "Redheads" he met there. "At men and twenty-two red and brown heads, and every speaker at a special meeting of the chiefs of classified advertising departments was a blond."

Support Mrs. Andrews.

The Parent-Teacher association of the second ward announced Tuesday that it is supporting Mrs. J. E. Andrews for the board of education because of her interrupted record of service to education in her ward and city, according to Mrs. H. C. McCutcheon, representative from the second ward, on the executive board of the association.

Members of parliament in Australia receive $5,000 a year.

Says Bootleg Liquor Used on Boll Weevil Would Be Effective

Juliette, Ga., August 1.—(Special.)—"Uncle" Sid Stokes, of Forsyth, who, until he retired several months ago, was the oldest rural mail carrier in Georgia, both in age and length of service, has suggested a new boll weevil cure. He says he does not know so much about two positives making a negative, but he does know where two boll weevils might be turned into good.

"There is so much talk about moonshine liquor and boll weevils with no remedy for either," says Uncle Sid. "I suggest that when a haul of blind-tiger liquor is made it should be poured on the boll weevils. Before you know it they will be so crazy they won't know whether they are in a cotton patch or a briar patch."

SAVANNAH DELEGATES TO FIGHT FOR PORT

Savannah, Ga., August 1.—(Special.)—Hearing that Brunswick has opened headquarters for waging a determined fight before the legislature for notice in the master of the designation of a state port, a Savannah delegation left tonight for Atlanta to remain there on the job till Savannah is officially named the "Georgia state port."

The delegation is composed of Charles G. Edwards, W. A. Johnson, Thomas Furse, John N. Davis, Edwin A. Cohen, Gordon Sausser, and Robert L. Colding. Others will join them tomorrow.

TEN-YEAR SENTENCE GIVEN FOR ASSAULT

Rome, Ga., August 1.—(Special.) In the case of Robert Harris, who has been on trial for the past two days for rape, the jury this afternoon brought in a verdict of guilty and the defendant was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary as fixed by the jury.

The case of Captain M. C. Cudd, former Salvation Army captain in this city, charged with rape, was begun in the superior court this afternoon.

He is charged with assault on a girl placed in his charge for protection a few weeks ago.

While the alleged victim of the assault was testifying on the stand this afternoon she fell from the witness chair in a faint and it took some time to resuscitate her.

The trial will probably consume all of tomorrow.

BISHOP OF SAVANNAH ARRIVES THIS MONTH

Savannah, Ga., August 1.—(Special.)—The right Rev. Father Michael Keyes, designated by the pope recently to be bishop of the Catholic diocese of Savannah, which comprises the state of Georgia, is expected to be in Savannah about the middle of the month.

He will come from Washington city, where he is a teacher in the Marist school, to consult with local clergymen and make a general survey of his prospective work. No plans have been made for his consecration, which will be in Washington.

MYSTERY SHROUDS DEATH OF ATLANTAN

Ithaca, N. Y., August 1.—(Special.) Laurence Conger, president of the Corona Typewriter company, of Grotton, N. Y., who was in Ithaca Sunday, could shed no light on the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Edwin Atwater Seitz, aged 56, of Atlanta, representative in Great Britain for the Corona company, from the steamship President Roosevelt early Friday as the vessel was approaching Ambrose lightship, near New York harbor. Mr. Seitz was on his way to America for a business conference with the Corona company and was expected in Grotton Monday.

Mr. Conger stated that Mr. Seitz had been their Great Britain representative for the past three years. For 11 years previous to that he had been the representative in Great Britain of the International correspondence schools, of Scranton, Pa., having introduced the correspondence plan in the British Isles.

"I can assign absolutely no motive for the strange disappearance of Mr. Seitz from the ship," Mr. Conger said. "He was a man of exemplary habits. Mr. Seitz had called us recently that he was coming to America to take up some business matters with us. His affairs were in excellent shape and the conference was sought by us. I understand that he had about $800 in money with him and there is a possibility that he may have been robbed and thrown overboard."

Mr. Seitz was a widower and had no children. When the President Roosevelt docked at New York, he was missing and a thorough search of the ship revealed no trace of him.

No information of a local nature can be secured concerning Mr. Seitz. It is presumed that his stay of 14 years in Great Britain accounts for this fact.

EXCURSION STEAMER HITS RAIL FERRYBOAT

New York, August 1.—The excursion boat Grand Republic, crowded with 1,000 passengers, mostly children, rammed the Erie Railroad ferryboat at Chataqua, also crowded with passengers in a heavy fog in the Hudson river today. Fifteen passengers on the Grand Republic were hurt in a panic which followed the crash.

Two women and a boy were hurled into the river. They were rescued. Another woman with a baby in her arms was thrown from the boat's deck to the deck of the ferry.

Both captains blamed the fog for the crash.

RAIL EXECUTIVES REJECT SENIORITY

crimination by either party against the employees who did or did not strike.

Quote President.

"The railroad executives and managers agree entirely with the president's statement in his letter that it is 'wholly unthinkable that the railroad labor board can be made a useful agency of the government in maintaining industrial peace in the railway service.' The employers and workers are both prompt and unquestioning in their acceptance of its decisions. I think it is more desirable than I know how to express to have established the unchallenged authority of the railroad labor board, because we must do these things which are necessary to bring about the recognition of suitable authority to decide and end such disputes as menace the continuity of transportation."

"By the language the president has expressed with great force and clearness the policy which we advocate. But, the decisions of the railroad labor board were flouted and defied by the six organizations comprising the federated shopcrafts; the strike was called to take effect July 1, 1922, and even the summons of the board to appear with the railroad executives before the labor board after the strike was called and before it took effect was ignored by the leaders of the strikers who refused to attend the hearing. Thereupon, it became the plain duty of the railroads actively and vigorously to undertake to uphold the orderly processes for the adjustment of industrial disputes contemplated by the statute creating the labor board and represented by the decisions of that board against which the strike in question was directed and at the same time continue to the best of their ability to discharge their duty to the public as common carriers."

Rights of Workers.

"Many men in the service refused to join the strike and in so doing were assured of the seniority rights accruing to them and of the permanence of their positions. On some important lines 50 per cent or more refused to join the strike. To these old loyal employees have been added thousands of new men who were employed and could be secured only upon a definite promise that their services would be retained regardless of the settlement of the strike, with all the rights appertaining to such employment, including that of seniority under the working rules and regulations previously approved by the railroad labor board. We especially point out that a refusal to the old men who remained in the service and to the new men who accepted service of the rights of seniority incident to their employment would most seriously discredit the labor board. The board itself prescribes the rules of seniority under which the men referred to have secured their seniority rights and the railroad companies have neither the legal or moral right to deprive these men of those rights. By public utterances since the strike began the board has recognized and emphasized these rights and to deny them now, could, instead of upholding the authority of the labor board, overthrow its rulings and discredit its authority."

The chairman of the labor board at the time the strike was called, made the following public statement:

Quotes Board Chairman.

"Upon one question, the striking employees should not be deceived. Their leader has said that the strikers are no longer employees of the railroads and they have thus automatically abandoned all the rights they possess, under their agreements and under the decisions of the board, including their seniority. This is in the board's action. It is their own."

"Many carriers are giving their former employees the opportunity to re-enter the service within a limited time. It must be understood now that men who remained in the service and those who are now entering it, will have rights of seniority that the board could not ignore."

"The chairman of the board's statement that this is an individual utterance, but it expresses, in substance, the sentiments of a large majority of the members of the railroad labor board, justified by formal action of the board, taken in its resolution of July 3, which stated, among other things, as follows:

"Be it further resolved, that the employees remaining in the service and the new ones entering same be accorded the application and benefit of the outstanding wage and rule decisions of the labor board until they are amended or modified by agreement with said employees, arrived at in conformity with the transportation act, or by decision of the board; and,

"Be it further resolved, that if it be assumed that the employees who leave the service of the carriers because of their dissatisfaction with any decisions of the labor board are within their rights in so doing, it must likewise be conceded that the men who remain in the service and those who enter it anew are within their rights in accepting such employment, that they are not strikebreakers seeking to impose the arbitrary will of an employer on employees, that they have the moral as well as the legal right to engage in such service of the American public to avoid interruption of indispensable railway transportation and that they are entitled to the protection of every department and branch of the government, state and national."

Justice Pointed Out.

"It must be understood that any proposal that employees now on strike shall be permitted to return to the service without impairment of their seniority is merely another way of suggesting that these men who took employment in this crisis in good faith relying on the promises of the railroads to protect them in their positions, these promises being justified by the utterances of the labor board, it now has made possible the continued operation of the railroads, shall now be sacrificed in favor of men now on strike who not only brought about the crisis but by their own action and declaration are no longer employees of the railroads under the jurisdiction of the labor board or subject to the application of the transportation act."

"In addition to the necessity of upholding the labor board and maintaining pledges made by the railroads to the men now at work there is the practical effect on the supervisory officers of a violation of the pledges they were authorized to make. Their discouragement and demoralization would be far more disastrous than this or any other strike. Much harm has already been done by repeated publication of rumor in recent days that the loyal men and the new men are to be sacrificed to the strikers. This has discouraged new men from accepting employment in as great numbers as would come forward if certain that the pledges given would be fulfilled. Such published rumors only delay the complete collapse of the strike."

"In view of the above, it is submitted that the striking former employees cannot be given preference to employees at present in the service, without doing violence to every principle of right and justice involved in this matter and without the grossest breach of faith on the part of the railroads to the men at present in their service. Under these circumstances, it becomes apparent that the railroads cannot consider any settlement of the present strike which does not provide protection in their present employment, both to the loyal employees who remained in the service and to the new employees entering it."

BRITAIN ASSUMES TECH PRESIDENCY

New Executive Faces Deficit, According to Report of Trustees—Senate Felicitates Him.

M. L. Brittain, former state school superintendent, took office Tuesday morning as president of the Georgia School of Technology, and Dr. M. M. Parks, president of the Georgia Normal and Industrial college, at Milledgeville, succeeded him as state superintendent, having been appointed by Governor Hardwick to fill the unexpired term.

The problem of finance was the first to face the new president. The annual report of the trustees showed the probability of a deficit unless additional appropriations are granted by the legislature.

The Tech trustees elected Mr. Brittain to succeed Dr. K. G. Matheson, who resigned to accept the presidency of Drexel Institute, in Pennsylvania. Since April 1, N. P. Pratt, chairman of the executive committee of the trustees, has been serving as acting president.

Tuesday morning the senate passed a resolution introduced by Senators Jackson, Childs and Rountree expressing regret at resigning up Mr. Brittain as head of the state's public schools and wishing him Godspeed in his new work.

Dr. Parks, successor to Mr. Brittain, is one of the best known educators in Georgia and the south. He has been given a leave of absence by the board of the G. N. & I. college to permit him to serve out Mr. Brittain's unexpired term.

HOTEL PROPRIETOR WHO HIT OFFICER HELD UNDER BOND

J. A. Earl, proprietor of the Candler hotel, 116 Ivy street, was placed under $500 bond Tuesday by Acting Recorder W. C. Jenkins to appear in criminal court on charges of assault and battery and resisting arrest.

T. J. Fisher, the officer who attempted to arrest Earl, said he went to the hotel at the request of a pedestrian to search for a friend of the latter and that the proprietor protested. An argument arose, he said, and Earl was placed under arrest.

He escaped, however, and ran into another hotel where he was found sometime later. There, according to the policeman, Earl grabbed the billy out of his hand and hit him over the head. Fisher was taken to Grady hospital.

Fisher was represented by John Ethridge and Jesse Wood, while attorneys for Earl were Paul Carpenter and W. C. Westmoreland.

N. C. & St. L. Heads
Will Not Consider
Restored Seniority

No settlement restoring seniority to striking shompen upon their return to work will be made by the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, local officials said Tuesday.

Imitation of similar policies was given by officials of other roads, who have employed men to take places of the strikers.

Leaders of the striking shopmen said that in their opinion no settlement would be made by national leaders that did not call for restoration of seniority. Officials of the Southern railroad expressed fear that the two factions would be able to reach an agreement because of the stand taken by national leaders and several big roads. However, the Southern expressed its willingness to restore seniority to its striking workmen, as they have not employed men to take their places.

During the elementary school year in New York city more than 100,000 boys are actively engaged in athletics.

HOUSER TO FIGHT TICK ERADICATION

O. M. Houser, of Fort Valley, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, opposing A. O. Blacklock and J. J. Brown, the incumbent, made public his platform Tuesday.

He pledges himself to work for repeal of the tick eradication law, repeal of the tax equalization law, stricter enforcement of the pure food law in the state, and declares he is "totally against the state bureau of markets as the bureau is now managed."

"That such a bureau should be allowed to exist and function at such an enormous cost with such exceedingly small profit is ridiculous, absurd and wholly incompatible with the principles demanded of the office," he declares. "If the state bureau of markets can do nothing more than issue the market bulletin for the purpose of perpetuating the present commissioner in office, I shall use every effort to have the bureau entirely abolished."

KIWANIS COMPLETE CONVENTION PLANS

Final arrangements for providing funds for entertainment of the international Kiwanis convention next year were completed by the Kiwanis club at its weekly luncheon Tuesday. Necessary funds will be raised by assessment of members, and the club unanimously voted an assessment Tuesday. By this plan several thousand dollars will be collected.

Henry C. Heinz, convention chairman, announced that Forrest Adair, vice president of the club, has been chosen chairman of the convention entertainment committee. Kiwanian C. W. McClure had the honor of being the first contributor to the convention fund. Immediately after the assessment was voted, he paid to the chairman the first installment on his share of the convention expense.

Kiwanians from all over the world will gather here next June for their annual convention. It is expected to be one of the largest gatherings of the year in Atlanta.

DR. LACY IS LEADER IN DAVIDSON DRIVE

Rev. B. R. Lacy, Jr., pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, has been appointed a member of the campaign committee for Davidson college and has written his acceptance to R. M. Miller, Jr., of Charlotte, N. C., chairman of the campaign to raise $800,000 for the institution, according to news dispatches Tuesday. The campaign committee of which Rev. Lacy is a member, is composed of leading citizens of the southeast. The campaign for a greater southern Presbyterian church was inaugurated recently, and Mr. Miller, founder and president of the Elizabeth Cotton Mills, in Charlotte, and former president of both the Davidson Alumni association and American Association of Cotton Manufacturers, was named chairman of the campaign committee. Malcolm Lockhart, of Atlanta, is campaign director.

BERRY BLACKSHEAR IS ROTARY SPEAKER

The Rotary club held its regular weekly luncheon at the Capital City club Tuesday, with W. M. Brownlee, president, presiding. Berry Blackshear gave a short talk on Rotary ideals, and Bayne Gibson, who was in charge of the program, introduced the chapters of Yarnab temple of the Shriners. Cliff Durham sang a solo.

"THINK OF HEALTH AND KEEP WELL," SAYS AGED JUDGE

"How to Get Well and Stay Well," was the title of Judge William A. Foster's third Atlanta lecture delivered before a capacity audience last night at Cable hall.

"Have you ever noticed," he challenged his hearers, "how in a company of people disease will be the topic of conversation rather than health—how operations will be discussed at length—how folks seem to take special pride in having been operated upon?" Have you ever noticed how crimes and misfortunes and moral failures are talked about rather than good citizenship and success and righteousness?

"As a man thinks, so he is," quoted the judge. "No truer words ever fell from the mouth of the Biblical sage, Solomon. 'Think health. Make the atmosphere about you, so far as you can, one of health rather than of disease. Do not fear disease, for fear invites the very thing that is feared. Impress upon the subconscious mind that you are strong and sound and well and happy, and the subconscious mind will bring it to pass. But here, as everywhere else, change will be to you according to your faith.'"

Scientists tell us that our bodies are made new every few months. The old cells are burnt out and new cells take their place. As the new cells come in, making new the body, we can impress upon them new ideas, thus freeing ourselves from the old lacks and limitations and assuring ourselves of health, vigor, strength and beauty.

Judge Foster, hale and robust despite his years, is a living exponent of the doctrine he propounds and which he assures his audience many use to their own benefit. He makes no charge for his lectures, and everyone is invited to attend. Wednesday night there will be no lecture, but the series will be resumed on Thursday. The subject being "The Cause and Cure of Old Age."

DR. AND MRS. WASSON WILL TAKE VACATION

Dr. and Mrs. S. E. Wasson leave Friday for a month's vacation. They will motor through north Alabama, visiting in Anniston, Birmingham and Decatur. After a few days among old Alabama friends, they will continue into Tennessee, visiting in Pulaski and other places. In Pulaski, they will be met by their son, S. E. During Dr. Wasson's absence, the pulpit of St. Mark church will be occupied by the following ministers: Dr. E. F. Dempsey, August 6; Dr. W. H. LaPrade, Jr., August 13; Dr. W. P. Reinsfield, August 20; Dr. W. P. King, August 27.

DANIEL MAY DECIDE TO STAY IN ATLANTA

Dr. Charles W. Daniel, who submitted his resignation as pastor of the First Baptist church, which pulpit he has filled for 13 years, had not decided Tuesday whether he would reconsider his resignation or accept a call to the First Baptist church of Lexington, Ky.

The board of deacons of the church Monday passed resolutions asking him to retain his present charge. Prior to the session of the board, which lasted until midnight, delegations from the women, men and young people of the church appeared before the deacons and requested to them to ask Dr. Daniel to remain as pastor.

BUICK PROMOTES LOCAL BRANCH OFFICIALS

Effective August 1 Byron H. King, former manager of the Atlanta branch of the Buick Motor company, will take charge of the southern territory.

Top, Byron H. King, southern division manager, and Benj. F. Ulmer, Atlanta branch manager.

including Cincinnati, Charlotte, Memphis and Atlanta territories, in the capacity of district sales manager. Benjamin F. Ulmer, formerly assistant branch manager, has been appointed branch manager to succeed Mr. King. It is understood that the office of assistant manager will remain vacant. Mr. Ulmer is taking complete control of the branch here—one of the biggest in the country.

The position to which Mr. King has been promoted was created at the last general conference at the factory. Messrs. King and Ulmer have been closely associated at the Atlanta branch for the past nine years, where they have worked to the top. Mr. King came to the branch just nine years ago, as did Mr. Ulmer. However, Mr. Ulmer was with the old Savannah branch for a short time, previous to his connection with the Atlanta branch.

Both men have had a long experience in the automobile business, holding every sales position with the Atlanta branch. Mr. Ulmer was with the White company for about four years previous to his connection with Buick. Under their management the sales of the Atlanta branch have grown steadily during the past few years, and their promotions have fallen fast for the past four years.

Mr. King will continue to make his headquarters in Atlanta, and it is hoped that he will be able to spend a good bit of his time here.

L. GLENN DEWBERRY TO SUCCEED FLOYD

L. Glenn Dewberry, of 6 Tilden street, widely known mechanic, was appointed city custodian Tuesday afternoon by the public buildings and grounds committee of city council, to succeed the late R. M. Floyd, who died last Friday.

Mr. Dewberry's appointment was made over fifteen applications for the position. He will assume his new duties at once, it was stated.

In addition to appointing Mr. Dewberry, the committee discussed improvements to the city market site on Edgewood avenue. Nothing definite in the way of improving the property was decided upon, a subcommittee being appointed to investigate certain plans.

MURDER INDICTMENT FROM LIQUOR PARTY

A true bill charging murder was returned by fifteen grand jurors Monday in the case of J. E. Sellers, who stabbed to death W. E. Strickland in the latter's home on East Hunter street the night of July 4.

The tragedy, according to the stories related to the police, was the outgrowth of a liquor party. Sellers is in the Tower awaiting trial. He maintains that he acted in self-defense.

Next-Morning Package Car Service

Do you know the meaning of package car service for the handling of "L. C. L. Shipments" (less than carload) and how you are individually served by this plan of the railroads to quicken delivery?

The package car is a development of the freight service which permits merchants or individuals to ship, not only to nearby points but over comparatively long distances, any article (perishable or otherwise) for prompt delivery. The package car gives substantially the same service as is obtained by carload shippers.

These package cars are scheduled so as to be of greatest convenience to the shipper and consignee and they are largely used for general public for shipment of household effects and the like, as well as by commercial houses for general merchandise.

This information is published by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad as part of an informative campaign of publicity, and in order that the public in general may become better acquainted with the advantages of the package car.

Woman's WorkTHE CONSTITUTION'S
DAILY WOMAN'S MAGAZINEFeatures Which Will Interest
Every WomanWomen Are Urging Repairs
For Winnie Davis Dormitory

Mrs. W. S. Coleman, acting president, Georgia division, U. D. C., who was appointed by the state legislative council, women's state organizations, as steering chairman for the appropriations legislation for Winnie Davis dormitory at the State Normal School, at Athens, explains the need and the women's interest in it in the following statement for The Constitution:

Needs Repairs Badly.

The bill introduced in the house of representatives to appropriate $2,500 to repair the Winnie Davis memorial building at the State Normal, in Athens, should have the hearty and unanimous support of members. Education, sentiment and state pride call for this pittance to preserve this historic building. The roof is leaking, the plumbing is in bad repair, the plaster is falling off the rooms, and the general status of the institution is in dire need of immediate attention. The urgency is real, and another year's neglect would very greatly damage the hall.

It has a unique history, linking the name of Winnie Davis, the beloved daughter of the confederacy, with the educational institutions of our state. It was in 1903 that the building was turned over to the state by the Georgia division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, at an approximate cost of $25,000, and this beautiful memorial is a shining tribute from the Georgia daughters to the young womanhood of the state. Mrs. J. A. Ross, president, who conceived the idea while president of the Georgia division, and the work was carried on by her successors in office, being followed by Miss Millie Rutherford, while president, who they were wonderful personality into the cause with splendid effect. Mrs. A. R. Hill, of Savannah, followed as president, and under her administration the building was finished and turned over to the state. Mrs. Ida Evans Eve, daughter of General Clement A. Evans, was general treasurer of the memorial, and the various chapters of the U. D. C. throughout Georgia with the personal contributions of the members made possible this beautiful testimonial to southern sentiment. The hall was a generous gift, and thousands of struggling young women have obtained an education thereby, fitting them for service in the schools of Georgia.

In the legislature at that time were such well-known public men as Joe Hill Hall, Pleasant A. Stovall, C. Murphy Candler, and many others who championed the bill accepting the hall from these patriotic women. Becoming the state's property, it involved an obligation to care for and protect the building just as all other public buildings of the commonwealth, but this hall has been neglected shamefully. For years the daughters have actually kept the building in repair, contributing last year $200 to this end. All the while the various rooms have been fitted out by the daughters, bedding, linen, rugs and draperies, and all the little accessories so dear to a woman's heart have been provided by them. Now the condition of the building and the burden of its upkeep is too much for these good women, and it would be a burning reproach to the state to longer neglect this sacred charge. The Winnie Davis memorial has been the veritable home of so many descendants of confederate soldiers who could not have advanced without the opportunities offered by this institution. Miss Alice Baxter, of Atlanta, was vice president of the Georgia division and president of the Atlanta chapter U. D. C., when the movement was on, and the "Atlanta room" in the Winnie Davis hall has been sought by young women attending this school.

Duty of State.

The measure now is sponsored by several prominent Georgia women who are acting for their organization. Mrs. Walter S. Coleman, vice president of the Georgia division, is ably assisted by such well-known civic leaders as Mrs. J. K. Otley, of Atlanta, chairman of the legislative committee; Mrs. F. C. Exley, of Savannah, chairman of the Winnie Davis memorial, with her committee members, Miss Alice Baxter, Mrs. Howard McCall and Mrs. James A. Erwin, of Atlanta; Mrs. H. W. Cantrell, of Decatur, and Mrs. T. M. McKee, of Valdosta.

These ladies will press this urgent need before the appropriations com-

AT WOMAN'S WINDOW

BY W. L. GEORGE

I have never met a woman who had quite enough money to spend on her clothes. I have among my acquaintances women who spend anything between four hundred dollars and three thousand a year on clothes; they have nothing to wear. In a dimmer region of my memory lies one or two friends who have expended up to a hundred and fifty thousand dollars a year on self adornment. They find this sum equally inadequate. This seems very extraordinary to a man who, as the years roll by, wears every night the same dinner suit, but there it is. I am not, however, concerned with the wife of the millionaire. I am thinking rather of the every day woman who must do the best she can with a few hundred dollars a year. She cannot afford continual change of clothes, and yet she wants to make a good effect. What is to be done?

The foolish woman buys the cheapest clothes she can find so as to have many changes. The resolute woman buys something to cover her and gives in. The resourceful woman makes things for herself and the result is sometimes unfortunate. A reckless woman buys what she can in the present and entrusts payment to the future. Which leaves the clever woman. That one combines the ideas of the other four and none of their faults. She buys not the cheapest but the best clothes she can afford. She does not hesitate to wear them very often. She knows that most men take little stock of variety. But above all she realizes that a slight change makes a big effect. So she does not throw away her money forty to fifty dollars at a time on new frocks. She keeps the old frocks, has them pressed, and spends fifty dollars on two new hats, two pairs of shoes and two pairs of gloves. It is the details which matter. That is the secret of the Parisienne. It can be every body's secret.

Mr. and Mrs. Spurlin Give Barbecue At Oak Hill

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lee Spurlin entertained a large number of friends and relatives for the week-end in typical southern style at their beautiful country estate, "Oak Hill," near Union Point, on Saturday, July 29, the occasion marking their twentieth wedding anniversary.

The large colonial home was decorated throughout with ferns and tall vases and baskets of flowers, from the hostess' garden.

Mrs. Alice Hueit, of Saluda, N. C., mother of Mrs. Spurlin, Mr. and Mrs. George Hueit and children, of Saluda, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bassler, and Miss Annie Hueit, of Columbia, S. C., motored to Union Point to attend the barbecue, which was the leading feature of the day.

Many handsome pieces of china were received, as a token of which Mr. and Mrs. Spurlin are held. Among other gifts was a beautiful hand-painted tea service, presented Mrs. Spurlin by the "Forty-two club," of which she was formerly a valued member. A number of her clubmates also enjoyed her gracious hospitality.

Those motoring from Atlanta were Mrs. S. A. Ledbetter, Mrs. T. J. Parker, Mrs. Jerome C. Hanes, of Macon; Mrs. James R. Hinton, Mrs. Panos D. Goutos, Mrs. L. A. Morris, and Mrs. Samuel C. Ables, Atlanta gentlemen present were Mr. L. A. Morris and Mr. James R. Hinton, who carried his radio, which furnished music for the occasion.

Saturday night an old-fashioned hay ride was given, and a lovely trip was taken down the Athens road, and on Sunday afternoon the guests motored to Daniel Springs.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Spurlin and sons, Harold, James and Oscar, Jr., and the "Forty-two club" members, others present at the barbecue were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hester, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Rhodes, Mrs. Elizabeth Thornton, Mrs. Corrin Mobley, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Overton, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Fluker, Rev. and Mrs. F. D. Cantrell, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Flynn, Mrs. T. R. ## Women and Fur Coats; A Hot Weather Chat

BY LOUISE DOOLY

The night was hot and the porch was cool. The moonlight would have suggested poetry or romance for conversation. Then why did those women talk furs? Well, one reason was that they were women, and therefore might not be expected to be consistent. The other was that they had just had revealed to them the fall fashions and the new models in furs with which Frohman is stimulating business these summer days.

The windows of the Whitehall street store are most refreshing while the mercury is languidly lingering around the nineties; at least the background of snow and ice is. Even fur wraps for which the Arctic setting is provided suggest to the woman who wants one not so much warmth as the snow regions of Alaska and Labrador and farthest Russia, and when she tries them on, she pictures herself motoring through a blizzard all cozy in her furs, and so she does not sue from heat. For a woman easily becomes such a philosopher, when she needs a fur coat. Observe, "needs" a coat, not just merely wants it. For want woman is there who cannot back up her desires with the argument of economy?

Beautiful Styles. "I never saw such style in furs," said one enthusiast. "It used to be that furs were just made to keep you warm. But what woman couldn't be just stunning in the kind they fashion now? They told me at Frohman's that the reason they are so smart, is that they are so much worn. They have become a woman just garment, as much for everybody as the cloth coat which used to monopolize all the style. With the prevalence of automobiles a woman just can't do without furs, and so she demands that they be graceful."

"I was a bit worried," admitted another, "because it seemed to me that with the longer skirts the fur wraps were going to look short. But did you notice how the designers have managed to avoid such an error of judgment? Not only have they brought down this year's coats and capes from the 36 inches of last season to a standard of from 40 to 50 inches, but they are flaring them at the bottom. Now you can hold your wrap around you as close as you like, and it will not draw the longer skirt up, or ruin its grace of line as the former dolman designs would have done, which were, however, ideal for the short skirt fad."

"My two bridge games kept me from going to the Frohman opening," said another fair speaker. "What furs seem most desirable?" and there was a chorus in answer as the little group had learned it all by heart.

"Mink, mole, seal, squirrel," they responded in unison, and then laughed. The combinations which seemed to have made the best impression were mole trimmed with platinum or gray fox; seal with squirrel or kolinsky.

The New Girdles. "I'm tired of metal and jeweled belts," was a sentiment that was applauded. "and I think the new silk corded girdles with their tassels are very much more elegant in tone. Did you notice how they introduce a bit of tinsel in the cord sometimes? I think that is charming."

"The one I selected."

"O, what did you get?" in a chorus of interrogation.

"I'm not going to tell till you can see it. But I'll give you this hint. It has the most sumptuous lining of all those I saw: canton crepe and brocade velvet. The lining decided me, when I couldn't make up my mind between two furs that were equally beautiful. The other lining too, was very festive in color and material. One had elaborate embroidery, but the brocade velvet I couldn't resist."

"Has your coat a high collar?" "Yes, and I know it's the best design have. It is so high when it is fastened that you can't see much more than my eyes, and the sleeves are that wide, and the mandarin style that they call the Jenny. It is fully fourteen inches at the hand, but it keeps you warm, because there is a little inside, cuff that fits close to the wrist."

Capes semi-fitted, some of them, to resemble coats or fitting close at the shoulders and falling full to let the long skirts hang unhampered, seem to be equally desirable with coats, and there is no medium wrap between the fur coat and the mere cloak.

"Give me one of these every time, said one pretty enthusiast. "I'm unconvinced enough to prefer looking pretty than smart, but you can combine both in the platinum fox and blue fox. I believe any woman would look well in them."

"This is the first time I have ever felt that it would be economy to buy anything less than highest quality of furs," added one speaker. "But I really believe that the bay seal is a good buy, if you don't feel like putting your money in one of the more expensive furs. I have it on good authority that this fur is a wonder for wear, and the style Frohman is showing them in are certainly good. I haven't decided yet on my purchase, but I am strongly tempted to get bay seal. Our new car cost so much."

"But don't you need the finest fur you can get to go with that good looking car?" and then an argument started which delved so deep into feminine theories of economy that the written word cannot do justice to the rest of the conversation.

FRANCE TO IMPOSE GERMAN PENALTIES

Paris, August 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—France will impose penalties of economic and financial character upon Germany because of her refusal to continue payments on the debts contracted by her nationals with allied nations before the war, it was said in official circles here today.

These penalties will be applied at the end of the ten days' period indicated by Premier Poincaré in his note to Berlin last week.

Germany's refusal to continue the payments was made known in a note from the German government today. It was pointed out in French official quarters that France probably would take steps against Germany regardless of what the other allies should decide regarding similar payments due them by Germany.

The time limit set by France will expire Monday.

The exact nature of the penalties could not be learned in official quarters. It was explained, however, that no military action was contemplated.

The view was expressed that the payments which are being made by German nationals by French citizens in connection with business dealings arranged before the war will be stopped in view of Germany's action.

SUMMARY OF GERMAN NOTE.
Berlin, August 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—The German reply to the French note regarding payments by Germany to the allied clearing house on account of debts contracted by German nationals with allied citizens prior to the war was telegraphed to Paris last night for presentation to the French government today.

The note reiterates that Germany finds it impossible to continue the monthly payment of 2,000,000 pounds. The argument made is that the reparations transactions and the clearing house process constitute one indivisible whole, and that the German financial situation makes it impossible for the government to continue payments either on account of reparations or to the clearing house under present conditions.

The note furthermore is understood to argue that German payments to the clearing house should not be made until the German private claims on German repossessed property have been settled. The German standpoint is that the whole question must be settled jointly by all the governments concerned.

Germany also protests against what it terms "the preemptory and dictatorial" policy of the French government, the note saying that a world catastrophe is inevitable if under present entente policy conditions in Germany continue to develop as at present.

SIX DEAD, MANY HURT IN TRAIN COLLISION

Cincinnati, August 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Six dead and six seriously injured, including two who may die, and more than 50 badly bruised and shaken up, was the toll today when Cincinnati, Lebanon and Northern train, No. 11, met in head-on collision with a negro Sunday-school excursion train carrying more than 200 passengers at Lester Station, a suburb.

The wreck occurred at a sharp curve in the road, making it impossible for either engineer to see the approach of the other.

Coroner D. C. Handley announced that he would hold an inquest to determine responsibility for the wreck. R. C. Bernard, superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad here, of which the Cincinnati, Lebanon and Northern is a branch, declared in a statement that he could not imagine how the wreck occurred. "Train No. 11 was on time," he stated. "The engineer of the excursion train should have known that No. 11 was due and should have waited at East Norwood until it passed." He said that the engineer of the excursion train, who was an experienced man, "seemed to forget all about train No. 11 and came ahead."

Chicagoans Turn Transportation Tie-Up Into Joke

BY ALEXANDER JONES, United News Staff Correspondent.

Chicago, August 1.—Caught without transportation by the most complete street car and elevated strike in Chicago's history, nearly 1,000,000 loop and wholesale district toilers Tuesday night turned demoralizing chaos into wild carnival and staged the most reckless merrillous this city remembers.

Not a street car or elevated train wheel turned during the day, and the second biggest city in the country took on the aspect of a beleaguered city. One hundred thousand automobiles, including trucks heavily laden with perspiring mobs workbound, poured into the loop and jammed every street with traffic that began to seethe with unmanageable miles of autos crammed as close together as they could be moved at snail's pace all day long.

When the night rush hour arrived and offices poured out hundreds of thousands of workers, every street in downtown Chicago was a black mass of humanity, while motor vehicles crowded the thoroughfares from gutter to gutter.

At this moment heavy showers of rain broke loose over the struggling masses. Instantly there were wild dashes for hotels, restaurants, cabarets and any other place offering refuge. There were dances in hotel lobbies, every seat in gay cabarets was at a premium, and the entire downtown district seemed to enter into the merrillous spirit.

Groups of gay young stenographers proceeded down the streets singing and kidding the world. Dresses ruined by the rain were laughed over. Men with umbrellas quickly found charming company. The city-wide campaign against "bearded and vamp" also went into the discard, and young women rushed any automobile with an empty seat that was headed in their direction.

Either Courtesy Or Vox Populi; Senate Puzzled

One of the most interesting fights over the passage of a local bill that has ever developed in the legislature will come to a head, in all probability, in the senate Wednesday when the Calhoun county courthouse case will be aired, it was learned Tuesday night. In this battle, the question of courtesy to the voters of a county as expressed in an election, will be settled.

In Calhoun county recently the people voted to move the county seat from Morgan to Arlington, the vote being 75 to 450 in favor of the move. The local representative, J. S. Cowart, introduced a bill in the house ratifying the verdict of the people at the polls and this bill was passed by virtually unanimous vote. The bill then went over to the senate, where its passage is opposed by Senator R. H. Sheffield, of the ninth district, who does not live in Calhoun county, but lives at Blakely, in Early county.

The question now puzzling some senators is how they can override the verdict in the Calhoun county election should Senator Sheffield insist that they exercise senatorial courtesy and vote with him regardless of the overwhelming vote cast in the county in behalf of the change.

Senator E. M. Thorpe, of the second district, announced Tuesday night that he does not believe senatorial courtesy should be sought in such a situation and that he will vote to sustain the vote of the house and the vote of the people of the county when the bill is called up for passage.

"I should like very much to extend the senatorial courtesy to my colleague, but I can't see how this legislature can get around the vote of the people in the case," he said Tuesday night. "The question of extending courtesy among senators is a good one on matters not connected with a direct vote of the people at the polls, but in such a situation I feel that I am bound to refrain from extending this courtesy under the circumstances. If it were my own bill I would not be offended at a brother senator who voted to sustain a verdict rendered at the polls."

The courthouse at Morgan was destroyed by fire recently, and to rebuild it at Morgan would cost the county $25,000, and the people of Arlington have agreed to pay this cost themselves, according to Senator Thorpe.

WALKER MAY RUN FOR HILL'S PLACE

Friends of Judge B. F. Walker, of Warrenton, senator from the 18th district, stated Tuesday night that it is probable that he will enter the race for judge of appeals to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge Benjamin H. Hill. Judge R. C. Bell, of Cairo, was appointed to the place by Governor Thomas W. Hardwick, but under the law he must run for the position in the next regular election. Judge C. Whiteford Smith, of Athens, recently telegraphed he would be a candidate for this place and the name of Claude Bond, of Tooele, also has been mentioned as a candidate.

Judge Walker served for ten years as judge of the Toombs circuit and has also served several times in the legislature. He is now senator from the eighteenth, and is known as one of the strongest members of the senate.

Another member of the legislature was mentioned Tuesday as a possible candidate, this being Judge Harper Hamilton, of Rome.

REDUCING QUOTA OF INSTRUCTORS AT FORT BENNING

Washington, August 1.—Because of the failure of congress to appropriate the amount requested for training at the infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga., the war department today began paring down the quota of officers who had been detailed for instruction there.

Orders assigning 78 officers to the camp, issued several weeks ago, were revoked, and it was indicated that other revocations would follow. Most of those affected by today's order are stationed at Camp Lewis, Washington, and Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, and virtually all the others are at other western posts.

Dublin, August 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Harry J. ## ATLANTA MAY GET NEW U. S. BUILDING

conferred with Major General Shanks, the corps area commander, last week. Postal officials report that conditions are crowded for their work in Atlanta. A new activity of the federal government has just started in Atlanta with the opening of the southern office of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, with E. C. Getzinger as manager. This was secured under an appropriation secured by Senator Harris.

The republican leaders of the present congress decided early last year that no public buildings bill would be considered, but it is possible that the next congress will take up such legislation for the first time since the United States entered the war, when all such omnibus bills were stopped. The postoffice department officials are urging that government activities be housed in federal buildings wherever possible.

$50,000 IS VOTED FOR STATE TROOPS

Jones, Reagan, of Henry, and More, of Randolph. Among those speaking against the bill were Representatives Arnold, of Clay; Bentley, of Fulton; Jones, of Coweta; Woodie, of Camden; Moore, of Fulton, and McClelland, of DeKalb.

Same Old Argument.
Arguments both for and against the bill were largely the same as those submitted in the senate during the filibuster over the measure in that body.

Representative Watkins, of Butts, led the fight on the floor for the passage of the bill and made a strong speech for the repeal of the measure. Representative Rutherford attacked proposed amendments to the bill and said the tax equalization law should be repealed unconditionally. He said the law as it now stands has worked untold hardships on the farmers of Georgia during a time when they have undergone severe financial reverses.

Representative Bentley spoke against the bill declaring that farm lands would be returned for taxation at low assessments while city property would have to stand the chief tax burden.

When several members had used up their allotted 20 minutes each it was apparent that an agreement might be reached whereby some supporters of the repeal bill would vote later for an income tax. A motion to adjourn coming at this time was adopted and action on the bill was delayed until Wednesday, as only bills on the special order prepared by the rules committee were up for consideration at the afternoon session.

Cattle Dipping Bill

By unanimous consent Representative J. E. T. Bowden, of Ware, introduced a bill Tuesday afternoon providing an appropriation of $75,000 to be used in completing the cattle dipping in several Georgia counties so that much of the discord over this law could be prevented. The bill was referred to the committee on appropriations.

Representative Fowler led the fight for the passage of the bill appropriating $50,000 to the state military department to be used to pay the troops now on duty at Waycross and to pay expenses of troops that might be called out again for similar service. An amendment was adopted which provided that as much as was necessary of the $50,000 be made available.

Representative Beckham offered an amendment making the appropriation available only in cases of emergencies, which was adopted. An amendment reducing the sum to $10,000 was defeated.

An invitation was read in the house from the city of Brunswick asking the members to be guests of that city next Saturday and Sunday to inspect the port of Brunswick. The citizens of Brunswick want the claim of their port considered by the house and senate before any action is taken on the Savannah port bill which provides a bond issue for $15,000,000 for port development.

Thanks to Theaters.
The house adopted by unanimous vote a resolution offered by Representative Bowden, of Ware, expressing the thanks and appreciation of the legislature to the theater managers and owners of Atlanta for courtesies extended the members during their stay in Atlanta.

Governor Hardwick sent a message to the house and senate Tuesday urging the passage of the pending bill providing for the formation of credit unions in the state. He pointed out that similar unions had been organized successfully in several other states of the union.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

Formerly Technical Electrical Expert for United States Government

LESSON No. 110. Points to Remember.

Remember that—The filament of a vacuum tube is much more likely to break if the tube is jarred or knocked while hot. The tube should be handled with care at all times, as even a slight jar is often enough to cause the delicate wire to snap.

The diaphragms of some types of telephone receivers sometimes become slightly rusted after much use, and the pole pieces themselves become slightly rusted with the vibration of the diaphragm and the diaphragm of the magnets and diaphragm with a soft cloth dampened with sewing machine oil.

Construct the aerial as far as possible from trees, houses and other wires, all of which absorb some of the energy and tend to reduce the effectiveness of the aerial, both for transmitting and reception purposes. Operators of both radio telephone and radio telegraph transmitting stations are required to have licenses which certify to the operator's ability to send and receive in the continental code at a speed of not less than ten words per minute.

There are now about 200 broadcasting stations operating throughout the United States, most of them on 360 meters. This means that there is probably one in your vicinity which may be heard upon the installation of a small receiving station. Most of these stations broadcast musical numbers by prominent players and singers, baseball scores, election returns and other items of popular interest.

A vacuum tube of the so-called "gas content" type is the best for detection purposes, although the adjustment is somewhat critical. The more highly exhausted tubes are employed as amplifiers by most amateurs.

Operators desiring the most efficient arrangement for long and short wave reception employ two separate sets, one for amateur, long wave and one for the transatlantic stations. Receiving sets having interchangeable coils for the various wave lengths combine those two in a single installation.

Avoid unnecessary apparatus in your receiving set; simplicity is a feature of many of the most efficient installations.

Much of the trouble, resulting in the failure of the crystal set to function, is due to a poor crystal or improper arrangement of the "cat wire" should be used with an adjustable tension, adapted to the particular kind of crystal employed. The test buzzer is used to ascertain when a sensitive spot has been located on the surface of the crystal.

The residual magnetism in an ordinary horseshoe magnet may be removed by constant tapping with a hammer. Similarly, the telephone receivers will lose much of their sensitivity due to decrease in magnetism if they are frequently dropped. (Copyright, 1922, for The Constitution.)

Not long before the event was to take place local authorities intervened. The final announcement follows: "The prize fight program this evening has been changed to a sermon."

Rapid and Excited Advance Follows Crop Estimate

decline of 3 points to an advance of 1 point and showed very little feature before the government report was issued. The firm showing of Liverpool continued dry weather in the Southwest brought in some scattered buying, however, and after selling market stiffened up on covering. The government report pointing to a crop of about 3 to 7 points net lower, the end-June figure and about 300,000 bales less than the average of the private reports recently issued, started a general buying movement and for a time the market was extremely active and excited, selling at 18 points net higher on the more active position. In the case of December contracts this carried the market back to within 15 points of the high record established on the publication of the end-June crop figures, but the market quieted an unexpected appearance in the later trading. There was bullish comment on the supplemental weather, October contracts sold at 21 1/2 to 22 1/2, and December at 22 1/2 to 23 1/2, and closing quotations before there was any halt in buying. Realizing there was more active and there were reaction to the 22 1/2 to 23 1/2, the best with December market closing at 22 1/2 to 23 1/2, and the market opening steady at a net advance of 106 to 111.

MONTHLY REPORT
CROP CONDITIONS
During the past two weeks practically all the crops in the southeast have registered progress.

Corn.
Corn has improved materially with in the past fortnight, although there are complaints of lack of cultivation in Tennessee, Georgia and North Carolina. The crop is about normal average.

Wheat.
Threshing is about complete in Tennessee and North Carolina. Rather poor yields.

Cotton.
Improvement has taken place in the condition of cotton over most of the territory. In the states of Georgia and South Carolina weevil damage has been sufficient to more than counterbalance this improvement. The crop has progressed rapidly in the southern portion of the district. In the first half of cotton reached maturity in Florida. Weevil panic subsides.

Tobacco.
Sales of Georgia crop begins. Tennessee tobacco making and growth but fields are uneven. Third crop yield expected in North Carolina.

Hay and Pastures.
Prospects generally bright. Large crops of early hay have been harvested. Pastures continue in generally good condition.

Cowpeas and Soy Beans.
Much used as a catch crop this season. In Georgia, the crop is in good condition. In Alabama, the crop is in good condition.

Gardens.
Generally needing cultivation.

Prospect for apple crop exceptional.
Peach crop about wound up, except in upper part of the belt. Harvest of commercial watermelons used by transportation conditions, and by being below expectation in the central belt.

Peanuts.
Looking fine. Attractive prices indicate probable harvesting of practically all the crop. The yield of the inter-planted which are usually hogged off.

Syrup Crops.
Sugar cane and sorghum yield in the south. Vetch beans are proving materially, except where overtaken by the grass.

Live Stock.
In excellent condition.

INVITED TO RIALTO

All "bobbed haired" girls will be admitted free to the Rialto theater in South Georgia, Thursday, August 3, and Friday, August 4, to see the picture of Wanda Hawley in her latest picture "Bobbed Hair."

If your wife wants to cut her hair and you object, Wanda Hawley at the Rialto theater today, Thursday, and Saturday, shows what happened after she bobbed hers.

If your sweetheart is timid about bobbing her locks and you think it would improve her looks, let her bobbed as the girls in the all-accolytes of the Rialto hair and skirts—of the artist colony.

In other words, this clever Paramount picture is an amusing satire of the Greenwich Village hair-cutting women are certain human problems of the girl dissatisfied with home surroundings, a married girl and her husband, and a girl who is a wife and mother.

Miss Hawley is ably supported by an all-star cast. International News and Rialto orchestra complete the program.

Condition still good.

WAS VERY PROMISING.

BELOW 60      moderate crop practically safe.
Below 50%.      RAPIDLY.

A total of 1,050,000 bales is the production in Georgia, as forecasted by the statement of Mr. Pettet, issued simultaneously with the government crop report.

The accompanying chart, showing the condition in various sections of the state, indicates the condition of the crop on July 25, as reported to Mr. Pettet by more than 1,000 agents located in every county of the state. The reports of these agents are compared, and the estimate made from these figures. His report on the crop outlook for Georgia follows:

Crop Condition Good.

Although there has been a decline in the condition of the cotton crop, the situation on the last crop reporting date was more hopeful than the preceding month. This may be explained in part to the credit of the local statistician, Z. R. Pettet, of the United States department of agriculture, by the fact that one month of extra rain had passed, and a fair crop is now safe in the southern portion of the state.

At the same time the cotton in the upper portion, most of which is some two or three weeks late, is still subsection. Weevil damage is now quite visible. Serious destruction is feared. Some complaint of grass in this district.

District 4—West.

Prospects are much worse in this section than a month ago, but the crop is quite good along the Alabama line from West Point to the southern and western portion of this district have a number of grown bolls on every acre.

District 5—Central.

Conditions very low and disaster threatens. The combination of the weather and weevil has discouraged almost every farmer, and cultivation is being abandoned. The extreme southern part of the district has much more favorable outlook, with a fair crop of bolls already set.

District 6—East.

Conditions in the eastern section of this district were very favorable during July until the last week. A YAF ject to extreme damage. It has grown splendidly during the past decided improvement took place, followed by an equally decided decline month. Its color is wood and from appearance one it would warrant a much more optimistic figure. On examination, however, shows the plant to be very sappy, and subject to blackrots from adverse weather conditions. Weevils are extremely numerous, and are successful in keeping down the number of squares. In the past season we had numerous enough to prevent blooming.

1,050,000 Bales Forecast.

The condition figure of per cent of normal indicates a total production of 1,050,000 bales. More or less will be produced as the season and crop factors vary above or below the average for this date. For the sake of comparison, the following are the number of bales of cotton grown in Georgia each year for the past twenty years.

Year.	Bales.
1902	1,475,834
1903	1,305,544
1904	1,392,880

1906	1,652,703
1907	1,892,779
1908	1,977,050

which is still in progress. This district is the worst for the weevil, and is winning up until a week ago. The prospect is still fairly favorable.

District 8—Southwest.

This section finds fault with the best crop since the advent of the weevil. Randolph, Sumter, Stewart and Terrell counties have good crops because the chaptal and weevil conditions are still favorable. The plants are blooming freely, green and thrifty.

District 8—Southern.

This district was making splendid progress up to the middle of July, when the weevil and weather resulted in very rapid decrease of area in rather favorable prospect. The decrease was not slight. The condition figure is about one-half the normal crop, but the forecast is pronounced to be over the year.

District 9—Southeast.

In this section the plant has gone back terribly in the past ten days. Numerous counties have already matured, but in others the boll weevil has the upper hand.

IN FIRST DISTRICT

Savannah, Ga., August 1.—(Special.)—The first state senatorial district executive committee today in Savannah fixed rules for the nomination of a senator in the September 13th primary.

Bryan, Chatham and Effingham comprise this district and Bryan is to furnish the senator in the next term to succeed Senator John E. Foy, of Chatham, who is serving now.

Two Bryan citizens, J. P. Dukes, of Pembroke, and A. M. Cason, of Ellenton, have announced. The entries close August 15.

Last year 7,400,000 tons of coal, 2,340,000 barrels of fuel oil, and 3,000,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas were burned in the manufacture of cement in the United States.

Each 376-pound barrel of cement represents an average fuel consumption of 200 pounds of coal, or its equivalent.

Fuel is one of the large necessary cost elements entering into the manufacture of cement.

About 33½ per cent of the cost of manufacturing cement goes for fuel.

Every one knows that coal costs a great deal more than before the war.

In 1921 the coal bill of the cement industry totaled approximately $40,000,000.

Heat required in cement making is about 3000 degrees Fahrenheit. This is a higher temperature than required in steel making, gold smelting, or almost any other industrial process involving heat.

This intense heat is necessary to fuse the limestone and other materials into what is known as clinker.

Grinding mills pulverize the coal into a fine powder before it is blown into the kiln to be used as fuel.

This grinding costs about $1 per ton.

Two Ward Rallies Hear
Platforms of Candidates

Campaign policies of a dozen avowed candidates for city offices were decided in the September primary were sounded at two political ward meetings Tuesday night—in the eleventh ward under the auspices of the improvement club and in the second ward with members of the citizens' club as the audience.

Nothing sensational developed at either of the meetings, the speakers, with few exceptions, confining themselves to a concise revelation of their platforms without taking any time to comment on the shortcomings of their opponents.

An assemblage of approximately 150 persons gathered in Lebanon Masonic temple at Georgia avenue and South Pryor street. A brief business session of the Georgia Department of Agriculture, and J. N. Sparling, candidate for the legislature from DeKalb county made stirring addresses and were given a rising vote of thanks for their efforts.

Mr. Sparling outlined the raising, curing and marketing of the sweet potato. He also gave the growers valuable information on fighting the boll weevil.

Mr. Sparling showed where Georgia could forget cotton and turn to other crops which would net the grower a fine profit, and he cited many instances of where this had been done.

The sweet potato growers of this section will build a community potato house for the drying of the potato, after which they will ship to Chicago, where a ready market awaits them.

Mr. Rowe stated he is making the race for council because he feels that he is qualified to render intelligent action on the important matters that are now confronting Atlanta. He stated that he is a union man and is vitally interested in matters pertaining to better educational facilities. He offered to donate the $25 a month salary that would be paid to him as councilman to parent-teacher associations.

Dr. Cochran, whose term of office as alderman from the second ward does not expire until next year, opposed Grant park as a site for the girls' senior high school which has consumed considerable time and discussion in council in the last several months.

The city has an excellent piece of property on Woodward avenue at Washington street, that could be utilized for this site, he said.

C. Don Miller, a candidate for city recorder; William B. Hartfield, candidate for alderman from the third ward; Mrs. Z. V. Peterson, candidate for the board of education from the eleventh ward; Councilman Walter A. Sims, candidate for mayor; J. P. Wall, a member of the city executive committee, who stated that he would announce within the next few days for the board of education, and Homer C. Denton, president of the Eleventh Ward Improvement club, were speakers at the meeting held at Rice's store, LaFrance and Flora streets.

Wants Industrial Peace.

Councilman Sims stated that he was running for mayor on a progressive platform which would enable Atlanta to attain all of the benefits to be gained from the expansion program of the largest and best cities of the entire country.

"I firmly believe that it is necessary for any city of Atlanta's size and possibilities to maintain peace between capital and labor before it can attain all of the benefits to be had from these two factions," said Mr. Sims. "Unless capital is assured a fair deal here there cannot be any attractions for the manufacturer to come here and build a factory. On the other hand I believe that it is just as necessary that the laboring man should be treated with equal consideration. I expect to see that this is done if I am elected, and I feel confident that I will be elected."

C. Don Miller declared he is running for recorder on the grounds that the place should be filled by a lawyer who is familiar with the laws of the state.

Mr. Hartfield pledged to render a progressive administration to the whole city and not show discrimination for any particular section. He stated there were men in council at present who were "continually playing politics" but that he would not be governed by anyone else's opinion but his own.

Mrs. Peterson spoke briefly on her policies, declaring that she was for better schools for the eleventh ward and believed that she was qualified to render a useful administration to the whole city as well as her own ward.

Will Donate Salary.

COTTON YIELD GOOD
OVER IRWIN COUNTY

Ocala, Ga., August 1.—(Special.)—Farmers of Irwin county are greatly encouraged over prospects for a fair cotton crop this fall. The hot and dry weather of the past few weeks has been very beneficial to the crop, and it is now generally believed that a fair yield will be obtained throughout the county.

About ten bales have already been marketed here, and it is expected that from fifty to one hundred bales will be received during the week.

The corn crop in Irwin is not nearly so good as it was last year, and the acreage is very much reduced. Hogs and cattle throughout the county are doing well, and the live stock sales in this section will be heavy this fall. Both the farmers and business men feel much encouraged over the business outlook.

Writing on Wall.

But if returning congressmen have been able to see the handwriting on the wall, as interpreted by political observers at the capital, some reason may be taken in the power of the senate to yet shape things so as to remove possibly a great deal of the dissatisfaction now prevailing. This, as predicted in previous dispatches to The Constitution, might be accomplished by having the tariff bill up in conference until after election time, by the vote of 24 to 17.

republican party, sentiment has developed antagonistic to the program sponsored, showing a greater reaction each day. Three months ago there was little interest manifested by the public in the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill. Now, after a severe hammering from democrats and insurgent republicans, the country appears to be up in arms against it. Nor does the nation-wide criticism confine itself to democratic opponents, showing on the contrary, probably more republicans and republican publications are lined up against it than at any other period in American political history.

It has been enough to put the fear of Allah into the hearts of administration leaders.

On the bonus bill an almost like situation prevails. Joined by a large portion of the ex-service men, who hold service greater than pay, the entire business interest of the country are making open declarations that the republican party will be held responsible for any further increase in the expenditures of the treasury and burden on the American taxpayer. There is a growing sentiment against the proposed ship subsidy bill.

Senate Promises.

Strictly speaking, republicans of the senate are on record as declaring for finished action on the tariff and the bonus bill, and in the senate by Senator Board, of the thirtieth. It has passed the house.

Drink Men Fight Bill.

Appearing before the temperance committee in opposition to the labeling bill was a large delegation representing the various food, drug and soft-drink industries.

Asa G. Candler, Jr., Lynn Fort general manager for Lamar-Rankin Drug company; P. C. McDuffie, president of International Proprietaries, Inc.; distributors of Tanlac; James A. Metcalf, secretary and treasurer of the Georgia Wholesale Grocers' association; Brooks Morgan, president of the Frank E. Block company, and others, spoke against the measure.

They offered as the principal objection to the proposed labeling act that it would either drive manufacturers to withdraw their products from sale in Georgia or to give away their secret formulae, and they declared that this act requires foods, drugs and drinking to be labeled with any deleterious ingredients they may contain.

Makes "Sweet Speech."

Mr. Morgan presented the committee with several samples of food and other candies made by his firm as samples, the members could test for themselves.

But greatest of all will be the deep

"This is the best speech that has been made before the committee," remarked a member of the senate.

Senator Harlan, in a brief talk, urged passage of the bill. He said it was not intended to break down the property rights in formulas, but was aimed solely as a measure of further protection to the public, which ought to be safeguarded to the utmost extreme in the purchase of its foods, drugs and drinks.

The committee reported unfavorably a bill by Senator Bond to require a person, after conviction for the possession of whisky, to tell where and from whom it was obtained.

House bill No. 421 requiring county tax collectors to make report and settlement with county boards of education, was approved by the committee on education.

Waterpower Bill Up.

The waterpower bill was called up in the senate Tuesday morning on motion by Senator Hollingsworth, and in a hot speech he assailed the Georgia Railway and Power company for its opposition.

"There is a greater demand from the people for this bill than for any other measure since prohibition," he said. "From whence comes the opposition to this bill? The Georgia Railway and Power company through its officers and paid lobbyists."

This company from whom Atlanta must get a sewer to have a street or mend a sewer. This company that is able to spend thousands of dollars fighting this measure, but is too poor to give a cent to the Georgia Railway and Power company through its officers and paid lobbyists.

DEPUTY'S SLAYER LYNCHED BY MOB

Macon Unquiet Following Negro's Killing at Holton After Capture at Griffin.

Macon, Ga., August 1.—(Special.) Following the lynching of "Cockey" Glover, negro gunman who slew Deputy Walter C. Byrd on Broadway last Saturday night, a feeling of unrest prevailed here this evening and city and county authorities were apprehensive of further trouble.

At 11 o'clock tonight everything was quiet in Macon and there was no indication at that hour that any attempt to cause trouble would be made. It was reported at 10 o'clock that a large number of men had congregated at Central City park, but for what purpose could not be learned. An hour later the crowd there is said to have thinned.

At the Bibb county jail armed deputies surrounded the building and no one was permitted to approach the jail. Judge Malcolm D. Jones visited the jail during the evening and advised the jailer and his deputies as to what they should do in the event that a mob attempted to storm the jail.

"Draw a line," said Judge Jones, "and if anyone comes across it lock him up. If he refuses to be locked up, I am not authorized to use your own judgment."

Judge Jones said Governor Hardwick telephoned him during the evening to know if troops would be needed. Judge Jones replied that he did not think so and was confident the local authorities could handle the situation.

Tonight the body of Cockey Glover was taken to Forsyth by City Detective Homer Hardison. The lynching having taken place in Monroe county, local police authorities decided that it should be taken there so an inquest could be held.

Reports from Forsyth tonight are that the people of that town are somewhat incensed that the lynching should have taken place in Monroe instead of Bibb county. They also do not approve of the manner of returning the body, claiming it should have been taken back to the scene of the crime and the Monroe county authorities permitted to remove it.

It is reported tonight that application will be made to Governor Hardwick for authority to remove two negroes now held in the Bibb county jail under sentence of death in connection with the murder of A. Lee Allgood, a street car motorman, several months ago, to another jail for safekeeping.

There also was some talk of requesting the governor to permit the use of a local military company in the event the situation should later demand it.

C. H. Douglas, Macon's wealthiest negro, and proprietor of a theater on Broadway, near where the killing of Deputy Byrd took place, is said to have received a warning to leave Macon by tonight or he would be killed. Last Saturday night after the killing of Deputy Byrd, Douglas was threatened and 20 police forced a guard about his house during the night. Both city and county officers say Douglas had nothing to do with the killing and was at home at the time it happened. He is being guarded this evening and will be given every protection possible.

Near Holton, just across the Monroe county line, a mob composed of several hundred Macon and Bibb county men this afternoon "Cockey" Glover from Chief Deputy Sheriff L. L. Mullally, of Bibb county, and United States Deputy Marshal E. F. Newberry, stood him against a tree and riddled his body with hundreds of bullets, fired from shotguns, rifles and pistols.

Shot Captor. Glover was taken from Central of Georgia railway passenger train No. 3 at Griffin, this morning about 5 o'clock after he had been identified by Conductor W. H. Beal and pointed out by Policeman T. E. Phelps of Griffin. The negro was not taken without a struggle, for when the officer approached him, and asked him what he had in his pocket, the negro said:

"Aw, that's nothin' but a d—n gun. I whipped out the weapon and began firing, shooting five times in all, one bullet striking Policeman Phelps in the hand. The officer, with the assistance of passengers on the train, finally subdued Glover and took him to the Spaulding county jail, where he was locked up."

Chief of Police L. L. Stanley, of Griffin, held a hurried consultation with the city manager of Griffin, who decided that the negro must be removed from that city and taken to the proper authorities in Macon.

Without warning the Macon authorities, it is said, the negro was placed in an automobile with Chief Stanley, Patrolman Hucker and A. A. Roane, a farmer residing near Griffin, and the party started on their journey at 7:20 o'clock.

No difficulty was experienced by the mob in gaining custody of Glover, though Deputy Mullally urged that they permit him to take the prisoner to Atlanta or some other place for safekeeping, promising there would be no delay in obtaining a trial for him.

Members of the mob refused to accede to the pleading and after endeavoring to get Glover to confess, in which they failed, they stood him up before a tree and poured volley after volley into his body.

Throughout the proceedings previous to the shooting, Glover was the coolest person in the crowd. He asked to be permitted to get a drink of water, and denied emphatically that he was the one who shot Deputy Byrd, laying the blame on another unnamed negro.

Displayed the Body. After the mob had done its work, and returned to the city, a second mob formed and proceeded to the scene of the lynching.

The body of the negro, placed in an undertaker's wagon and brought it to Macon.

The police finally managed to get the body into an automobile and rushed it away from the scene. Later in the night it was turned over to a negro undertaker and prepared for burial.

Glover had been in hiding since the murder of Deputy Byrd. He told the officers at Griffin after his arrest that he had been in the swamp below Macon and had had nothing to eat but berries.

The action of the mob in taking Glover from Deputy Mullally and putting him to death in the night, in the hope of bringing to light by the capture of Glover.

Charge Murder Plot. That Glover was hired to kill Deputy Sheriff Byrd by a certain ring of negroes; that the deputy sheriff and other officers were lured to Hatfield's poolroom on Broadway on Saturday night, where they were murdered; that the police officers were allowed to stay in his house because of his activities in the bringing about the arrest of the alleged murderers of Lee Allgood, street car motorman, who was killed on Christmas eve last, is the belief of county authorities. Glover facing charges of murder, was refused to respond to the officers' questions relative to this plot. The only utterance they were able to secure from the negro when questioned along this line was to the effect, "I'm glad it's over with, I want to die. I won't be any more trouble to my mamma."

While sheriff officers have not given up all hopes of bringing about the arrest of the members of the alleged ring, the death of Glover has badly undermined their plans.

STATE HOSPITAL SCENE OF BLAZE EARLY TUESDAY

Little Rock, Ark., August 1.—Three hundred women patients were successfully removed from a large ward building at the State hospital for nervous diseases here early today after a fire, which destroyed the building, was discovered in the attic.

When it was apparent that the building in which the fire originated could not be saved, the patients were ordered to evacuate the building.

Seriously Stabs Fellow Worker Who Teased Him

Lad in Hospital May Die From Wounds by Angered Friend.

Frank Cain, age 18, of 83 McAfee street, is at Grady hospital suffering from knife wounds which attendants expect to prove fatal, as a result of an altercation late Tuesday afternoon with Charles McKenney, another youth, of 221 Bryan street.

McKenney, held at police station, charged with stabbing Cain with a pocket knife, admits the stabbing, and claims that it was because Cain angered him by repeatedly pulling his cap down over his eyes. He was arrested by Call Officers Crankshaw and Andrews.

McKenney and Cain work in the cabinet rooms of the Southern Upholstering company, on Bellwood avenue. They are said to have begun an argument in the workrooms before 5 o'clock. After the quelling whistle blew, it is said, the quarrel was continued on the outside of the building, with the result that Cain was stabbed in the back of the head and in the chest. His lungs were pierced by the knife two or three times, it was stated at Grady hospital.

McKenney stated at police headquarters that until Tuesday afternoon he and Cain had been the best of friends.

Cain struck McKenney with a stick before McKenney wielded his knife, he told the officers. McKenney expressed much regret upon learning of the seriousness of Cain's wounds, and said that he had only thought he would never have committed the act.

Man Dies in Well Trying to Rescue Young Step-Son

LYERLY, Ga., August 1.—(Special.)

Oliver Dooley, 30, prominent farmer living ten miles west of Lyerly, was killed in a well at his home, Monday, when he went to the rescue of his 8-year-old stepson, who had been sent into the well to recover a lid from a milk can.

Not being aware of the presence of gases in the well, Dooley placed a rope around the lad's waist and lowered him down.

Shortly before reaching the bottom the lad was overcome and fell from the rope. He called to Dooley, who tried to reach him, but the child was unconscious when he was hauled him to the top.

Not being able to draw her husband from the well alone and terrified by the sight of the unconscious child, Mrs. Dooley secured assistance from neighbors. Some minutes later the body was found in the well and only energetic work saved the life of the boy.

Smuggling Charge Results in Arrests Of Pensacola Men

Pensacola, Fla., August 1.—Several persons are under arrest here and others are expected to be taken into custody immediately in connection with an alleged smuggling ring organized to bring Chinese and liquor into the United States.

Some of the details of the operations were revealed here yesterday after George E. Hoffman, assistant federal district attorney, received word of the arrest in Philadelphia of Louis Ying, a Chinaman charged with being one of the leaders in the plot.

According to charges contained in indictments against members of the ring, the auxiliary schooner Success would bring the Chinamen and liquor to the three-mile limit where they would be transferred to two of the fastest speedboats on this section of the coast. These boats would carry the men and liquor to the shore.

Both have been seized by the government. The Success is in Cuba, but officials said she would be seized upon her return to the United States.

C. P. Moore, of Crestview, Fla., owner of the Success, is characterized by officials as "the brains" of the alleged unlawful operations. He is named first in two indictments in the case.

DENBY IS PLEASED BY JAP POLICIES

Manila, P. I., August 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Jama is observing every detail of her obligations under the naval and four-power treaties after the Japanese navy and a feeling of mutual confidence has succeeded the uncertainty which formerly existed in American relations with Japan, according to a statement given out by Secretary of the Navy Denby today, the first day of his visit to Manila.

Secretary Denby intimated that conditions in the Far Eastern Pacific were not sufficiently stabilized to permit of immediate consideration of the naval armament statement given out by Secretary of the Navy Denby today, the first day of his visit to Manila.

His statement said: "I believe that Japan is living honorably to every detail of her obligations under both treaties."

"I am impressed with the confidence exhibited by the Japanese in the success of the pact and believe that Japan, as well as the United States, has no reason to be concerned in the internal arrangements in the Pacific which are beneficial to everybody concerned."

Regarding conditions in China, Mr. Denby, speaking "only as a private individual," stated his belief that China's salvation would come through a "strong man" who would be able to hold the military leaders of the country in check.

He declined to state whether he believed any Chinese at present was capable of assuming this position, but said that General Wu Pei-fu, military leader of the north, was generally regarded as a strong man. Mr. Denby said he understood that General Wu never had been charged with being under foreign influence.

the road near the old sawmill early Sunday morning gave rise to suspicions that he had met with foul play.

The search continued until Tuesday morning, when a man named Pulliam, a member of the searching party, noticed that the sawdust had recently been disturbed. Investigating, he discovered the body, horribly beaten and mutilated.

The feet of the body were protruding from the sawdust. Examination showed that the skull was crushed apparently with a blunt instrument. The body was almost unrecognizable, and bruises were found practically all over it.

County police, upon learning of the discovery, notified Coroner J. A. Henderson, of Campbell county. Lack of witnesses at the inquest Tuesday caused its continuance until Wednesday morning.

McElreath was unmarried and lived at the Bellwood camp. He is said to have recently been in the habit of carrying large sums of money on his person, but on the advice of Warden Charles Collier, of the Bellwood camp, he is said to have deposited about $700 in a bank two or three days prior to his death.
